SELF-PUBLISHING IS ANY TIME YOU SHARE YOUR WRITING.

Blogging on your site or a platform (like medium) is great for short pieces or serial articles. Monetization comes from ad revenue. Readers don't usually pay author directly.

Zines are usually brochure-sized publications that are easy to photocopy. They can be hand-drawn or laid-out on a computer. They are usually free or low-cost for reader.

Self-published books are print-on-demand books often produced through large online stores. They are sold for money.
